THE RULER OF HADINGTON

(by Martha, Orestis, Nick, Elias and Giota from Greece)

(by Kasia from Poland)

(by Dominik, Gabriel and Olaf from Poland)

(by Martha, Orestis, Nick, Elias and Giota from Greece)

Once upon a time, on the land of Tagoria, lived an evil knight who planned to kill the king and become the ultimate ruler of Hadinghton. He built golden and metal castles and he armed his soldiers with the deadliest weapons. The final battle was about to take place...

The Evil knight didn't know that the king had a dragon. It was the king's best weapon. It was huge, it had three heads and it could fly. So when all the soldiers and knights were ready for te battle, the evil dragon went out and started breathing fire...

But the evil knight had a mysterious weapon, too. It was a giant who had an iron axe. The giant jumped to the front and attacked the dragon. At the same time the golden castle collapsed and...

and the army of the evil knight violently entered the castle. They started burning down everything in the castle. As the warriors were destroying the city, the heard a terrible, terrifying scream!. It was the king's soldiers attacking. The win of the royals was a matter of time. The evil knight was fighting with the king when suddenly the dragon spat fire and killed the corrupted knight. After that, the war had stopped forever, and people started to pull themselves together bit by bit.

By Peter, Pete, Panos, Lambros, Jim, Nick and Spyros from Greece

On the 23rd of February in 1676, the castle of Wizards start a war against some strange Ghosts. During the first fight the Wizards are the winners, but the Ghosts feel humiliated and take an oath to revenge! They prepare for a decisive fight and are about to strike when...

...a messenger from Dragons arrives. He says that the Dragons want to help the Ghosts because the Wizards took Dragons' land three years ago. The Ghosts agree on the Dragons' help but they plot to use them and then take their lands for themselves. Then they will be the strongest kingdom of all!..

After this offer by the Dragons, the Ghosts are puzzled and they decide to send a spy to the Dragons' castle to find out what is going on. The spy manages to eavesdrop their evil plans and rushes to the king. He tells him all about the plot and the king, really angry and disappointed, lets the Wizards know what the Dragons are planning. The Wizards...

...and the Ghosts decide to join their forces and win the war against the Dragons. The Wizards and the Ghosts united their kingdoms and they lived happily ever after, and had a party every week.

TOM IN THE VOLCANO COUNTRY

By Stavroula, Tharaleos, George, Theodora and John from Greece

By Victoria and Lucy from Poland

By Gabriela, Natalia and Patrycja from Poland

By Stavroula, Tharaleos, George, Theodora and John from Greece

One day, a man called Tom, decided to find a way to protect the people who lived in a country named Volcano, from the dangerous volcanoes. He would do it with the help of ten men. The plan was to start from their country, Sealand, and get to the Volcano. So it happened. They travelled by plane and took all the necessary things with them to face the dangers that would lie ahead. Their task was very difficult because they were very few ... They underwent a long way. They swam in a boat, walked across a desert, climbed up on mountains, flew in a helicopter and drove in a tank. They took with them a big cork. They climbed up the steep wall of the first volcano using ropes and chains and put the cork inside the volcano, so it couldn't explode anymore. In this way the problem of the first volcano was solved ...

They followed the same procedure with the next volcano. They climbed up to the top and put the cork into the crater of the volcano. But when they got down the volcano started shaking and the men got scared. At the beginning they didn't know what to do, but after a while they decided... to call specially equipped planes to control the volcano. When the planes arrived they managed to minimize the flow of the lava, but just for a short while. The whole volcano started shaking again making a deafening noise! Tom discussed the matter with the rest of the people and decided to evacuate the island and come back some time later with better, more reliable equipment. Tom's plans to protect Volcano's people were unfortunately postponed for the farther future.

DRAGONS AND KNIGHTS

By Panagiotis, Thanos, Konstandinos, Panagiotis and Angelo from Greece

By Kacper and Przemek from Poland

By Panagiotis, Thanos, Konstandinos, Panagiotis and Angelo from Greece

Many years ago there was a castle called "Camelot". There was also another castle, the "Dark Knight". In the Camelot castle the knights were trying to find some magic potions to help humankind. In this castle there were also a lot of good-hearted and benevolent Red dragons that helped the knights with their magic. In the Dark Knight castle, however, the vicious Black dragons were thinking of stealing the magic potions from the Camelot...

The Red dragons didn't allow the dark dragons to take the potions. One day a dark dragon painted his skin red and tried to slip in the castle Camelot. Luckily, that moment, some red dragons were having a bath, so the paint was washed away from the dragon's skin. The red dragons continued to throw soap at him and the dark dragon tried to run away...

The Red dragons started to chase him but he managed to escape. A few years later the dark dragons had their own evil potion and wanted to start a war to take over 'Camelot' castle and the knights' magic potions. They managed to slip into the laboratory in 'Camelot' castle and steal the secret formula.

However, the Knights' guards detected the invaders' footprints on the mud. They located them and succeeded in immobilizing them and taking back their secret formula. After that, the dark dragons decided to stop their attacks against the Camelot's castle forever. Now the Knights along with the good-hearted, benevolent dragons were free to use their potions and save Humanity from fear, diseases, poverty and wars.

PIRINIKOS I

By Markos, Ioanna, Eleftheria, Annita, Konstandina from Greece

It was July 1970, when Pirinikos I, a luxurious ship, sunk. Unfortunately a lot of people died. A young man, named Robertino, died too, and only one woman, called Sally, survived. From then on that young man haunted her dreams. Two years later, Sally got married. Sally and her husband went on a lot of voyages. One day, they sailed on a ship named 'Pirinikos II'...

The weather was beautiful and everything was fine, but then one night when Sally and her husband were sleeping in their cabin, she dreamt about the disaster of "Pirinikos I". Suddenly she woke up. She heard the door opening and then steps but she couldn't see anybody...

She tried to fall asleep again, but after a while she heard steps again. She got up and went out of the cabin to check it. She saw something like a shadow or a ghost of Robertino. She started screaming 'heeelp'. This cry woke up her husband and he...

told her that it was just a nightmare. He asked her not to worry and go to sleep, but she knew that Robertino was somewhere there, close to her. The ghost of Robertino was very friendly and tried to reassure her, but Sally got so scared that she started screaming again. Robertino touched her gently and then Sally realized that he did not intend to harm her. A few seconds later however the ship started shaking. It had just hit on an iceberg! People were running up and down the ship, most of them got into the life boats and survived, but Sally's husband did not make it."It was the same disaster, as the one in Pirinikos I", Sally explained to her grandchildren.

THE MYSTERIOUS MOUNTAIN

and by Kacper and Przemek (Poland)

by Theodore, Anastassis, Elias, Lambis, John (Greece)

Two years ago, five boys decided to climb up the mountain K8. They told their parents that they were going to go for a walk. They took their bikes and started cycling to reach their destination. When they came to the foot of the mountain, they couldn't see the road anymore, so they started climbing. They were feeling so brave and proud of themselves and were about to reach the top...

Suddenly the weather changed and snow started falling. The five boys got scared, because they couldn't see anything. They heard strange sounds and one of them turned around and saw a mysterious shape behind them. They ran away and saw a small, abandoned house so they got in. It was dark and scary in the house. They wanted to shut the door behind them but just that moment ...

...they saw a mysterious light coming from the top of the mountain. They decided to find out what it was. They slowly walked up in silence and after a while...

they came up with a dark, huge sphere. One of them touched it and he...disappeared!..The boys, scared to death, started running in order to escape. While they were running away some black, strange smoke surrounded them and took them far away. There, in the black cloud, they heard a sweet voice whispering, 'wake up, wake up, relax'. They woke up and to their relief, they realized that all this was just a bad dream, a nightmare that the five boys had strangely experienced together!

A FAIRY TALE

and by Gosia, Zosia and Zuza from Poland

By Nefeli, Athina, Lina, Eleftheria, Valia from Greece

Once upon a time there was a rainforest and in this rainforest there was a green, shiny village full of playful fairies. Their houses were big with colourful sofas, crystal mirrors and beds made of feathers...

One day the fairies saw that they didn't have any honey. They packed necessary things and went on an expedition. While they were walking through the forest they heard a strange noise. They looked between the tall trees and saw a tiger chasing a dwarf. The dwarf was very scared...

...and tried to find a place to hide. When he saw the fairies he jumped into their basket and the fairies ran to the river which flowed through the forest. They made a small boat and put the dwarf into it. He thanked them and waved 'goodbye'. The fairies turned back and saw... a witch who was holding a peculiar stone. "Are you looking for something?", she asked. The fairies, a bit frightened, responded, "Indeed, we are looking for the Honey Village, could you possibly show us the way?". The witch, who thankfully was a kind-hearted old lady, promised to help the fairies. She said, "this stone can take you to the village you wish to visit. The only thing you have to do is to rub it twice". The fairies thanked the helpful witch, rubbed the stone and in no time they found themselves in the Honey Village! They got the honey and returned back to their beautiful rainforest, safe and sound and completely satisfied that they had managed to complete their duty.

THE BOAR AND THE PIRATE SHIP

By Nefeli, Mary, Marilena, Lydia and Sevi (Greece)

Today it is Friday. It is a beautiful day and six friends, Helen, Giorgina, Christine, Stefani, Efi and Lilian are having a picnic in the countryside. They are eating delicious toasts, tasty cakes, juicy fruits and ...ice-cream! They are all having a great time talking about interesting and pleasant things. Suddenly...

... a big boar runs from behind the trees and starts running into their direction. When it is very close children get scared and run away to the forest..The boar disappears and the children are suddenly in a magical land. They take a look around and don't see the strong animal. After a while the same boar appears. They recognize him of the large white hooves. Frightened the children come to a large stream. After reaching the stream they see a large sunken pirate ship...

Giorgina , although scared, feels really hungry and decides to eat an apple from a tall, strange apple tree that is next to the stream. Within seconds Giorgina has a peculiar feeling...She dives and she finds out that she can breathe underwater! She comes up to the surface, asks her friends to eat from the same tree and they all together decide to explore the pirate ship. When they come close to the shipwreck they discover an invaluable treasure!

THE MEETING

By Agis, John, Gregory, Pelo, Phaedon and triplets (Greece)

Today it is Thursday and John decides to hang out with his friends. He gives them a call and they agree to meet outside Agis' house, which is situated on the outskirts of the city. When they all arrive at this place, they see that Agis has got new neighbours. They look at the garden and see new children playing there. They decide to meet them..

They are called Sophie and Dominick. Sophie says that she has a magic watch. It is a time machine. The children want to see that watch and they suddenly press one of the buttons...and they are in dinosaurs times! They hear a noise behind them and when they turn around they see a very big dinosaur running towards them. The children start screaming and running. They tell Sophie to change the time but she drops the watch...

...and they find themselves in the future! The people have spaceships instead of homes and robots do all their housework. Computers also do the pupils' homework, so kids have spare time to watch TV, play video games or do whatever they wish. The kids like this way of life and they decide to stay in the future for some time. But the robots want to take the people's place and rule them. In the meantime, the children's parents are so much upset and worried. Fortunately Sophie's mother has got another magic time machine and brings them back home safe and sound.

or (second option)

...and the kids are in space! The people up there travel by flying cars. The kids are very enthusiastic about it. They take a flying car and go to the space school. But they do not really like it, so they try to find someone to tell them how to return home. In the meantime, Sophie manages to find the right button and they come back home safe and sound!

2nd round

ON THE LOST ISLAND

By Alice and Kazik from Poland

By Peter, Peter, Lambros, Jim, George, George and Spyros from Greece

On June the 12th, in 1950, eight children loose themselves on an island. They walk for three days and three nights but they meet no one. They are exhausted and hopeless. No people, no food, no shelters.....

They decide to make a hut of wood. They go to the forest to find wood and they split. After an hour they come back to the same place but one kid is missing...

The other kids decide to find him. They start walking to the north and they get some sharp sticks to hunt something to eat. After a while of walking among the trees one of them points to the green liquid leaking from a tree. Then...

the children decide to taste this liquid not only out of curiosity but also because they are very thirsty. After a long time of walking they meet a quiet, friendly puma. They know very well that Pumas have the ability to smell something based on temperature. So the puma manages to find the missing boy and everybody is really happy. They are happier when they see a ship sailing close to the island. They start shouting and waving. The captain sees them and brings them back home. A week later the kids, safe and sound, are relating to their classmates their adventure on the lost island.

BIKE ADVENTURES

By Arek&Dominik from Poland ;)

In a little town there was a group of friends. They all loved riding mountain bikes. Every Saturday they went on a trip on their bikes and tried to find a new route. One day on a new route in the forest they saw strange footprints...

They looked at each other. Someone said they were wolf footprints, but they were too big. Another boy said that they were probably made by a bear. So they decided to follow them and see who was right. They were riding their bikes when they suddenly saw a big cave..

Although they were scared to death, they decided to get in. When they got inside they couldn't see anything. A few seconds later however they heard some strange noises. The boys were terrified...

They all decided at once to step back and never return. As they were running away they felt some huge creatures coming after them screaming and barking! The children, even though they were almost petrified, they managed to come into light again. To their relief, they discovered that the monstrous creatures could not bear the light of the sun. They found it really weird and they never told anyone about this disgusting adventure.

DISAPPEARING NANNIES

By Victoria and Zoia from Poland

By Theodore, Lambis, Elias, Tassos, John

By Alice and Kazik from Poland

One day four children went out of school and waited for their nanny, who always took them home. Their names were Kelly, Anna, Tom and Eric. Kelly was 12 and she was the eldest. Their nanny was very nice and they liked her very much. They waited and waited, but their nanny didn't come into view. Kelly was scared. Children went home and saw the dead nanny on the floor...

Kelly was trying to calm them down. That was unbelievable! Then something was heard from the kitchen. They turned round and saw a bloody knife stabbed on their nanny's picture. They started crying, scared to death. They tried to call for help, but nobody was around. Eric, the youngest child, collapsed. Now Kelly had to face two problems: a murder and her brother's fainting fit...

She put her brother in a coach while Anna and Tom were trying to help him come back to his senses. Kelly realized that the phone was very close to her. She called the police and explained what was happening in the house, in a trembling voice. The policeman asked her to remain calm and reassured her that everything would be fine. Indeed within 10 minutes the police arrived. The kids were safe but not the poor nanny.
